TO THE HARDWARE TRADE.

WE again take the pleasure of presenting to you a new CATALOGUE AND PRICE LIST OF GENERAL HARDWARE, also our DISCOUNT SHEETS, giving current prices.

Other Discount Sheets will be issued by our Company from time to time, giving our current prices; subject to change without notice.

We have labored, for many years, to improve the quality of all goods made by us, and now confidently invite the closest inspection of every article we manufacture; and we particularly call the attention of the Trade to our new lines of BRASS, FIGURED ENAMELED, VERDE ANTIQUE and BRONZE METAL GOODS, CARPENTERS' TOOLS, GONG BELLS, and ORNAMENTAL HARDWARE.

On the receipt of letter orders, our rule will be to fill the same immediately, as far as possible, from our stock, and the balance of the articles will be sent (unless countermanded) as soon as they come from our factories.

Goods sent in by our customers to be packed, or shipped, will be received by us (if properly marked), and have our ordinary care; but we will not assume any responsibility against damage or loss.

All goods will be at the risk of purchasers, after shipment from Berlin Depot, Conn., or New York, as the case may be, unless we are directed to insure in each and every order or purchase.

We shall charge a moderate price for all packages, except those specially exempted herein.

Money will be received, or drafts collected and held on deposit, subject to sight draft; but no interest will be allowed on deposits.

All parties who purchase goods from us are requested to make all remittances TO OUR ORDER AND ADDRESS ONLY, and to make no payments to others on our account, unless upon a special order, in each case signed by the President, Treasurer or Secretary of the Company. Any payments, otherwise made, on our account, will not be credited or acknowledged, unless the money comes to our hands.

The "Improvement in Fire Tongs," for which we have secured Letters Patent in the manufacture of our Brass Head Tongs, enables us to substitute Solid Metal Joints for soldered brass, making the article more substantial and durable than the ordinary Tongs, as the joint is much firmer. The PIN passes through both legs, and the flat dish of the joint end of the legs is the full size of the head, thus having a much greater bearing surface than the brass joints of ordinary Tongs, AND AIDS TO PREVENT THE JAWS OR PANS OF THE TONGS FROM PASSING EACH OTHER.

"Good quality, beauty of design and fine finish. The inkstands, pen racks, paper files, &c., are cheap for Imitation Bronze."

CARRIAGE HARDWARE, COMPRISING BANDS AND SOCKETS.

"Substantially made, well finished, economy in cost, and adapted to the purposes intended."

HARDWARE AT THE CENTENNIAL.

MAIN BUILDING.

THE HART, BLIVEN & MEAD MANUFACTURING COMPANY

of Kensington, Conn., and 18 and 20 Cliff street, New York City, have placed in the Centennial Exhibition, Philadelphia, an extensive line of samples of their productions. They are located at P, 69 and 70, in the south-east end of the main building, near the South avenue, and cover a space (a portion of it occupied by the Branford Lock Works) fifty-six feet long and seven feet wide, with avenues extending around all sides, and passages leading from the South avenue directly to the exhibit. The walnut cases in which the larger portion of the samples are shown contain thirty-six sample boards—eighteen in the upper and eighteen in the lower section—tastefully arranged. The lower or table portion of the cases are slanting in form, and rest upon fluted piano legs, standing on a handsomely carpeted floor. The upper cases, which are perpendicular, are separated from the lower ones by a neat black walnut cornice. The whole is surmounted by an elaborately carved and gilded sign extending the entire length, and lettered on both sides. At one end are pyramid shaped sample boards of Connell's celebrated gong bells. These are placed upon three wings, set on a turntable, which revolves by means of a clockwork, and attracts general attention. At the other end of the long line of sample cases is their office, neatly furnished with writing desks, chairs, and copies of the Hart, Bliven & Mead Manufacturing Co.'s and Branford Lock Works' catalogues. For the convenience of their customers who visit the Exhibition they have placed a post-office box in the office, to which there are eight daily deliveries. Around the whole structure is a handsome double bar nickel plated railing, between which and the sides of the sample cases are placed samples of heavy goods, such as shovel and tongs stands, andirons, barn door trimmings, etc. The samples inside and outside the cases are divided into different classes as follows:

CARPENTERS' HAND TOOLS, viz: Socket, firmer and framing chisels, corner chisels, carpenters' slicks, carpenters' coach makers', wagon makers' and farmers' drawing knives, screwdrivers and scratch awls. Steel, iron and nickel plated carpenters' squares, etc.

HARDWARE USED IN CONSTRUCTION, COMMONLY CALLED "BUILDERS' HARDWARE," viz: Cast bolts, hinges, pulleys, sash and door fasteners, cupboard turns and catches, hat, coat, wardrobe and bird cage hooks, store door, trunk and chest handles, gate and thumb latches, drawer pulls, shelf and flower pot brackets, furniture casters, barn door trimmings, etc. These goods are finished in japanned, coppered and enameled iron, brass, silver and nickel plated and bronze metal.

CARRIAGE HARDWARE, viz: Iron, brass, orioide, silver, nickel and gold plated carriage bands, shaft, neck yoke, whiffletree and pole sockets, coach handles, dash rods and collars, spring bar bolts, japanned and silver carriage knobs.

STATIONERS' HARDWARE, viz: Japanned, figured enameled, bronze metal, nickel plated and verde antique paper clips, paper files, check cancellers, paper weights, ink-stands, pen racks, match safes, twine boxes and book racks.

HOUSE FURNISHING HARDWARE, viz: Brass and nickel plated andirons, japanned and enameled fire dogs, blower stands, shovel and tongs stands, kitchen sets, japanned, polished, brass and nickel plated shovels, tongs and pokers, spiral spring coal tongs, cleavers, steelyards, coffee pot and sad iron stands, toilet racks, bootjacks, etc.

GONG BELLS, viz: Bronzed and enameled, steel, polished brass, nickel and silver plated, and bronze bell metal door and trip house bells, with crank, pull and thumb latch handles.

The foundation of the Hart, Bliven & Mead Manufacturing Company dates back just thirty-eight years ago. Mr. J. T. Hart, the vice-president, commenced to manufacture a few articles in Connecticut in 1838, and the same year Mr. Charles Bliven commenced the sale of American hardware in a limited way in the city of New York. Mr. Edward B. Mead, the treasurer, joined him a few years later. In 1854 the present corporation was formed; the parties above named being then as now the principal owners of the company, and are to be found every day active in the business. The managers of the company claim that none of the 1,600 samples of different articles shown in the space allotted to them were made for the purpose of the Exhibition, but are strictly business samples, each one having its proper number and list price attached, and that the whole aim and object of their exhibit means business. The exhibit is in charge of Mr. Charles J. Bliven, the general manager of the company, who is in daily attendance at their Centennial office.

THE BRANFORD LOCK WORKS,

Branford, Conn., have their sample cases arranged in similar style to those of their agents, the Hart, Bliven & Mead Manufacturing Company. They contain sixteen sample boards, on which are arranged 500 samples of mortise and rim locks, latches, knobs, etc. Among articles to which they call particular attention is their patent undercut mineral and porcelain door knobs, whereby they claim that the fastening of the top to the neck of the knob makes them the most durable and best secured knobs in the market. Their rim and mortise locks are all made with a lever and straight spring operating the latch bolts, which they state are less liable to break and get out of order than the bowed springs used by other makers. Patent telescope rim night latches, and locks with flat steel keys, and self-adjusting cylinders extending for doors varying from $1\frac{1}{4}$ to $3\frac{1}{4}$ inches thick. Also the Gilbert patent lock, the neck of the knob and the escutcheon being cast in one solid piece of metal, and the lock operated without turning the knob. The above two exhibits occupy the largest space, and contain the most complete line of legitimate samples that we have seen in the Hardware Department of the Exhibition. They are noticeable, not only for the good taste shown in their arrangement and classification, but as an exhibition of articles of prime necessity in the trade they represent. The exhibit is conspicuous for its great variety and the common sense finish of everything presented. Mr. Charles J. Bliven is also in charge of the goods of the Branford Lock Works.
